

A walk for autumn

Autumn is perfect for a multi-day trip: the paths are quieter, the hostels have space, and the golden yellows and reds as the trees turn are truly memorable. This three-day route is ideal for the season, heading across six wonderfully varied dales between Gargrave to Grinton.

www.carfreewalks.org/walks/364/across\_the\_yorkshire\_dales

An autumn day in Wharfedale

Been on a great autumn walk? Submit it at:

www.carfreewalks.org/form\_walk.php

What's on the blog?

It's not all mountains and glens in Scotland. The coastline has some fantastic days out – read about our walk to Port nam Murrach Bay.

<http://carfreewalks.blogspot.com>

Port nam Murrach Bay

Competitions

Congratulations to the winners of our Summit guidebooks competition – the prizes will be on their way shortly. Our latest prize for submitting walks is a fantastic Onya Bag - open until the end of November 2010.

www.carfreewalks.org/onya\_bag\_competition.php

And remember to log in (and scroll down in the 'Your walks and more' tab) for member's offers - including discounts with Aqua 3 maps and Green Books.

Spotlight on ...

Devon's Tarka Line railway runs through the charming countryside between Exeter and Barnstaple. There are great walks from each station; order a free guide from the Tarka Rail website.

<http://tarkarail.org/page2.html>

The car-free photo gallery

Be inspired by our latest photos – from the Scottish Highlands, the South Downs, and the Grand Union Canal.

www.visitorreview.com/carfreewalks

Black Combe, Lake District

You can also upload your own pictures.

Next newsletter

Our winter newsletter will be in out December. Please send us any news and meanwhile, enjoy the website!

CAR FREE WALKS
carfreewalks.org